

Women of Color: Additional Resources

U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC)

The EEOC oversees the fair treatment of U.S. employees. To learn about the services they offer, visit their web site at www.eeoc.gov.

To learn about filing a complaint of harassment or discrimination with the EEOC, visit www.eeoc.gov/charge/overview_charge_filing.html.

To visit the EEOC's special section on Ethnic/National Origin, Color, Race, Religion and Sex Discrimination, visit www.dol.gov/dol/topic/discrimination/ethnicdisc.htm.

Women of Color Resource Center

The Women of Color Resource Center (WCRC) promotes the political, economic, social and cultural well-being of women and girls of color in the United States. Their web site offers information on a variety of relevant topics.

Visit www.coloredgirls.org to learn more.

National Council of Negro Women

Dealing with issues from housing to social security, the economic empowerment section of the National Council of Negro Women web site offers a variety of information and resources.

Visit www.ncnw.org/resources/economic.htm to learn more.

National Urban League

The web site of the National Urban League has a section on economic empowerment that addresses how to access their services in the main areas of Jobs and Job Training, Home Ownership and Affordable Housing, Financial Literacy, Technology Training, and Entrepreneurial Growth and Opportunity.

Visit www.nul.org/economicempowerment.html to learn more.

National Partnership for Women and Families

The web site of the National Partnership for Women and Families covers information on a wide range of topics, from civil rights and affirmative action to welfare to health care.

Visit www.nationalpartnership.org to learn more.

Advocacy Resources

NOW (National Organization for Women): Racial and Ethnic Diversity

The National Organization for Women (NOW) has a section of its web site dedicated to Racial and Ethnic Diversity, offering both education and advocacy materials.

Visit www.now.org/issues/diverse to learn more.

National Council of La Raza

As the nation's largest Latino civil rights and advocacy organization, the National Council of La Raza hosts a web site featuring research and advocacy activities.

Visit www.nclr.org to learn more.

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)

The NAACP has a long history of activism on behalf of people of color and has a Women in the NAACP (WIN) committee that focuses on issues important to women and children of color.

To learn more about the NAACP visit www.naacp.org and to learn more about their WIN committee visit www.naacp.org/programs/women/index.htm

Health and Wellness Resources

The Black Women's Health Imperative

The Black Women's Health Imperative is committed to advancing the health and wellness of African-American women and girls. Their web site offers information and educational materials on several important health topics.

To learn more visit www.blackwomenshealth.org/site/c.eeJIIWOCIrH/b.3082485/k.BEBA/Home.htm.

NAWHO, Health Partnership for Asian Women and Families

NAWHO has several publications, forums, and other materials regarding the health of Asian women and families available on their web site.

Visit www.nawho.org to learn more.

National Alliance for Hispanic Health

The web site for the National Alliance for Hispanic Health offers a variety of resources as well as opportunities to be part of their community and advocacy.

Visit www.hispanichealth.org to learn more.